

Meteorology & Climatology Minor (18 credits)

Offered through the Department of Geography & Planning, the Meteorology & Climatology Minor is available to students either in the Geography ,B.A. with a 'Concentration' other than Meteorology & Climatology , or in Urban Planning, Communications, Earth Sciences, or any other major at SUNY Buffalo State. In addition, the Meteorology & Climatology Minor can be coupled with another minor to complete an Individualized Studies , B.S. See your advisor to make certain that you are meeting your degree requirements .

A. Required Courses (6 credits):

GEG 101 World Natural Environments
GEG 241 Meteorology (also GES 241)

B. Choose three from the following (9 credits):

GEG 303 Global Climatology
GEG 382 Weather Forecasting
GEG 383 Severe & Unusual Weather
GEG 384 Atmospheric Science
GEG 385 Paleoclimatology
GEG 386 Applied Climatology

C. Choose one from the following (1 credit):

Any Course not selected from above
GEG 375 Principles of Hydrology
GEG 480 Air Pollution Applications
GEG 478 Global Change
GEG 488 Internship
GEG 495 Independent Study

Course Descriptions